RETURN to an Order of the Honourable The House of Commons, dated 30 May 1836;—for,

A RETURN from each of the three SUPERIOR COURTS of COMMON LAW at Westminster, showing the Number of ACTIONS commenced in each of those Courts in the Year ending on the last day of Easter Term 1836, upon which Writs were sued out:—Of the Number of CAUSES tried in each of those Courts in Middlesex and London, and at the Assizes in that Year, distinguishing those in Middlesex and London from those on the Circuits, and distinguishing also the defended from the undefended Causes:—Of the Number of FINAL JUDGMENTS entered in each of those Courts in that Year:—Of the Number of BILLS OF COSTS Taxed in each of those Courts in that Year, distinguishing the Taxations after Trial from those in the earlier stages of the proceedings, and distinguishing also those causes in which an actual and bonâ fide investigation was made by the Master himself from those which were settled by consent of parties:—Also, a RETURN from the CROWN OFFICE in the COURT OF KING'S BENCH, showing the Number of PROSECUTIONS commenced in the Year ending the last day of Easter Term 1836, and the Number of such PROSECUTIONS TRIED, and the Number of TAXATIONS of BILLS OF COSTS therein, as in the other Courts.

COURT OF KING'S BENCH.

5 July 1836.

THE number of actions commenced in the Court of King's Bench in the year ending on the last day of Easter Term, 1836, upon which Writs were sued out, is - - 43,321
The number of final Judgments entered during the same time, is - - - 7,768
The number of Bills of Costs taxed during the same time, is - - - 7,575

And of those taxed in earlier stages of the proceedings - - - - - 1,966

In explanation of the last question, the Master of the Court of King's Bench observes, "All Bills of Costs are submitted to an actual and bonâ fide investigation by one or other of three Masters, and are generally contested by the parties with great zeal; but in some very few instances, where business of importance has been conducted by Attornies in extensive practice, they have settled the account by mutual agreement, in order to avoid the inconvenience and loss of time in coming to the Master's Office. On such occasions the Clerk brings the Bill of Costs, with their joint signatures, to the Master's Office, for his inspection and approbation; and if he approves, he marks the Costs accordingly. Such instances do not occur half-a-dozen times in the year."

The number of Causes entered for trial at the Sittings at Nisi Prius in Middlesex and London, was - - - - - - - - - - - - 614
The number tried, was - - - - - - - - - - - - 371

On the Norfolk Circuit 27, of which 22 were defended, and five undefended.

On the South Wales Circuit 35, of which 34 were defended, and one undefended.

The

The Return of the Prothonotaries of the Court of Common Pleas of the number of Bills of Costs taxed, and which now remain, and are filed in the office of the Prothonotaries for the year ending the last day of Easter Term 1836, are 2,906. In every one of these an actual and bonâ fide investigation was made by the Prothonotary himself. In addition many Bills of Costs are taxed by the Prothonotaries for the purpose of proving before the Commissioners of Bankrupts, and also sent to the Prothonotaries for taxation, either by one of the Masters in Chancery or by one of the Masters in the other Courts; and many are also taxed by consent of parties, of the numbers of which there is no account kept; but they must amount to from 200 to 300 per annum at least. Many Bills also which are taxed, are frequently taken away by the parties, and which probably amount to from 200 to 300 more; these would make the number of Bills taxed, as far as can be ascertained, about 3,500.

Of course the Prothonotaries can furnish no account of the numbers of those Bills settled by the consent of parties amongst themselves.

The number of Bills on taxations, after verdicts, inquiries, and writs of trial, are 617.

This does not include any of the taxations on final judgments in debt, covenant, &c. where no trial before a judge or sheriff takes place.

The only cases where an investigation does not take place is on judgments on warrants of attorney, where a fixed sum is always allowed.

The number of these for the above period is 475.

These are not included in the number of Bills of Costs taxed, as no Bill of Costs is made out.

No account appears to have been kept of the Petitions presented prior to 1794.

The Vice-Chancellor began to hear Bankrupt Petitions in the year 1813, and ceased to do so, with a few exceptions, by consent, on the appointment of the Court of Review in 1832.

The account of the Petitions left unheard at the close of Trinity Sittings, is imperfect, because no regular account of such Petitions can be found until in late years.

12 May 1836.

Wm Vizard,
Secretary of Bankrupt.

COURTS OF CHANCERY AND EXCHEQUER.

RETURN of all APPEALS presented, and WRITS of ERROR delivered, in each year, from 1790 to 1835, both inclusive; and the Number heard and disposed of in each of the said years.

(Mr. Solicitor General.)

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
23 June 1836.

MASTERS IN CHANCERY OFFICES.

RETURNS to an Order of the Honourable The House of Commons, dated 4 September 1835;—for,

A RETURN, for the last Three Years, of the Number of APPOINTMENTS in each Cause within that time pending in the COURT OF CHANCERY, at the Offices of the several Masters of that Court, which have been Attended by Counsel, and of APPOINTMENTS which have been Deferred at the request or on account of the Absence of Counsel.

1.—The RETURN of Francis Cross, Esq.

THE attendance and non-attendance of the solicitors who do and who do not attend upon the several warrants issued to proceed on matters referred to the Master, are regularly entered in the book kept in the Master's-office for the purpose of recording the proceedings had in the various causes and matters, and the chief object of this is to regulate the allowance to solicitors for their attendances when the costs of the suit are under taxation; but as the employment of counsel upon proceedings before the Master is not as between party and party allowed in costs, it has not been deemed necessary to take notice of their attendance in such book, and consequently there may have been many warrants so attended, but of which no Return can be given; but the following Account contains all the Appointments which appear by the said book to have been intended for the attendance of counsel.

TITLE OF CAUSES.	Number of Warrants issued to be attended by Counsel.	Number of Warrants postponed at the instance of Counsel.	TITLE OF CAUSES.	Number of Warrants issued to be attended by Counsel.	Number of Warrants postponed at the instance of Counsel.

The above return is necessarily imperfect. I have been frequently attended by counsel, without any previous notice having been given that counsel would attend; and notice has frequently been given of the attendance of counsel, when they have not attended, and the business has proceeded in their absence; and in these cases, the attendance or non-attendance of counsel may have been omitted to be entered in the warrant-book.

It will be seen by the above return that many of the warrants, which have been entered for the attendance of counsel, have not been attended, but the cause of the warrant not being attended is not always entered in the warrant-book; and I have not the means of ascertaining how many appointments in the above return have been deferred at the request or on account of the absence of counsel.

J. E. Dowdeswell.

6.—The RETURN of Sir Giffin Wilson.

As to the inquiry respecting Appointments Deferred at the request or on account of the Absence of Counsel, the Master can only state the several Appointments, specifying those actually attended and those not attended (no record being kept in the office of the cause of the failure of such as were unattended); but in far the greater number of instances, it may be concluded to have been the Absence of Counsel or an alleged request of Counsel for postponement.

9.—The RETURN of George Boone Roupell, Esq.

Master Roupell is unable to make a return for the last three years of the number of appointments in each cause within that time, pending in the Court of Chancery, at his office, which have been attended by counsel, and of appointments which have been deferred at the request or on account of the absence of counsel, for the following reasons; viz.:—

The attendance by counsel before the Master is entirely at the discretion and option of the parties. The Master hears the parties or their agents, whether counsel or solicitors; and it commonly happens that the Master knows nothing of the attendance of counsel until they appear before him. Sometimes the solicitors, when they mean to attend the Master by counsel, in courtesy to the other party, write, by way of notice, on the warrant for attendance, that it will be attended by counsel; but the Master is no party to it, and has nothing to do with it; and he may proceed, as he frequently does, whether counsel attend or not.

When, however, as is sometimes the case, the Master is apprised that the matter is intricate, or that matter of law, or title, is involved in it, and the parties are desirous to be heard by counsel, a particular day or hour is appointed for the convenience of counsel; but if they are detained at such times in Court, and cannot attend, it is usual (mostly by consent of parties) to adjourn the attendance to some other day or time.

In my office there is no note taken or kept of the attendance of counsel; but when a solicitor means to attend by counsel, and so states on the warrant, it is so marked in my day-book of causes and matters to be attended before me on that day, but no other notice is taken of it, or of the actual attendance or non-attendance of counsel, or of the reason of such non-attendance; and I have no means of ascertaining it.

G. B. Roupell.

10.—The RETURN of William Brougham, Esq.

It is not always known beforehand in the Master's office that warrants will be attended by counsel; sometimes counsel attend only on one side, and no entry or record is made of such attendances by counsel, except where it may appear by a note made by the Master himself of the arguments and cases cited; and it is likewise seldom known in the office that the warrant is postponed on account of the inability of counsel to attend. In many instances the warrant is not attended at all, and notice of such non-attendance is very seldom given by the solicitors, who being aware that the counsel will not attend, consider that their own attendance would in such cases be useless, and it is only by way of courtesy to the Master that any notice is ever given that a warrant will not be attended; therefore it is impossible for me to make the return as required by the Order of the Honourable House of Commons of the 4th of September last, "That there be laid before The House a Return for the last Three Years of the Number of Appointments in each Cause within that time pending in the Court of Chancery, at the Offices of the several Masters of that Court, which had been attended by Counsel, and of Appointments which had been deferred at the request or on account of the Absence of Counsel," further than to state my belief that warrants are frequently not attended in consequence of the absence of counsel, more especially during term time, when the courts are sitting at Westminster.

W. Brougham.

The management and direction of the Assessed Taxes and Land Tax in Scotland, were transferred from the Barons of Exchequer, Scotland, to the Commissioners of Assessed Taxes, under the Act 3 WILL. IV., c. 13, intituled, "An Act to provide for the Execution of the Duties performed by the Barons of Exchequer, Scotland, in relation to the Public Revenue, and to place the Management of the Assessed Taxes and Land Tax in Scotland, under the Commissioners for the Affairs of Taxes," and Minute of the Treasury, dated 4th April 1833.

Sir Henry Jardine, King's Remembrancer	1,700 – –				– – The Attornies or Clerks in Court are employed by the suitors, and (except where there are Solicitors for the King) are Solicitors before the court; they receive fees according to the Table and practice continued from 1707. In 1831 they were three in number, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Stuart, the two senior, having 50*l.* each of salary under a Privy Seal Warrant of Queen Anne. Now, in 1836, there are only two acting, Mr. Taylor having been appointed Solicitor of Stamps and Taxes; and the junior Attorney, Mr. Henderson, was not placed on the establishment for the 50*l.* salary in succession to Mr. Taylor, thereby effecting a saving of 50*l.* of salary in this department. The fees received by the Attornies fluctuate according to the state of the Revenue prosecutions which have much diminished of late years. No official accounts of these, which are considered to be of a private nature, are kept, except where fees are paid for the King in King's suits.

Exchequer Chambers, Edinburgh, 6 July 1836.

Henry Jardine,
King's Remembrancer.

COPY of all MINUTES of the LORDS of HIS MAJESTY'S TREASURY, since the passing of the Act of the 2 & 3 WILL. IV. c. 13, respecting the Reduction or Consolidation of the Office of King's Remembrancer, with any other Office in the Court of Exchequer (Scotland), and of the Establishments thereof.

SIR, Treasury Chambers, 26th April 1836.

THE Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury having had under their serious consideration the present state and existing establishments of the Offices of King's Remembrancer and Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer of the Exchequer of Scotland, I am commanded by their Lordships to acquaint you, that they are decidedly of opinion, that the maintenance of the separate establishments of these two Offices, is not only unnecessary for the discharge of the public business, but that such business would be better performed if both these establishments were reduced, and reconstructed upon an entirely different principle, and upon a much more economical footing. Although their Lordships are empowered by the Act 3 & 4 Wm. IV. c. 13, to consolidate and regulate the duties of the Offices of King's Remembrancer and of Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer, in such manner, and under such regulations and conditions as they shall think fit, they entertain doubts how far they are authorized by that Act so to regulate the establishment as appears to their Lordships to be the best calculated for the furtherance of the public interests, so long as your life interest in the Office of King's Remembrancer continues. As the Office was granted to you for life, it seems to My Lords that the mode by which they would be enabled to proceed in this matter in such manner as would be satisfactory to themselves and advantageous to the public, would be, either that you should surrender the Office on such compensation as My Lords would be ready to award for your long period of service of 42 years, or that their Lordships should apply to Parliament for additional power, founding such application upon the advantage which the public would derive from the regulation and consolidation of the office, and the reduction of the establishment. Their Lordships have no doubt that a case exists which would induce Parliament to grant such additional power; but as their Lordships are already fully authorized to make every alteration which they think necessary, in the event of a vacancy in the Office, they are of opinion that before they submit any such measure to Parliament, it will be proper to ascertain from you, whether you are willing, by resigning the Office of King's Remembrancer, to enable this Board to carry into immediate effect the measures which they contemplate as necessary and advantageous to the public service, upon receiving a grant of a retired allowance of 1,400*l.*; that being the amount calculated according to the ordinary scale, fixed by Act of Parliament, which My Lords would be prepared to assign to you, if your Office should, on public grounds, be abolished by the Legislature.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c.
(signed) T. F. Baring.

The King's Remembrancer, &c. &c. &c.
Scotland.

A communication in the same terms, so far as related to the surrender of the life interest of Mr. Montgomery in the Office of Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer, was addressed to that gentleman; his resignation to be subject to the grant of such annual compensation as should be awarded by the Lords of the Treasury.

COURTS OF REQUEST.

RETURN to an ADDRESS of the Honourable The House of Commons, dated 17 February 1836;—for,

A RETURN of the Number of COURTS OF REQUESTS, or COURTS for the RECOVERY OF SMALL DEBTS, in England and Wales; distinguishing such as possess the Power of Imprisoning the Person in Execution, and stating the Parishes or Places over which their Jurisdiction extends.

ASHTON-UNDER-LINE.

THE Court of Requests, of which I am clerk, possesses the power of imprisoning the person on execution, and its jurisdiction extends over the parish of Ashton-under-Line, in the county of Lancaster, the township of Dukinfield, in the parish of Stockport, in the county of Chester, and the several townships of Stayley, Hattersley, Matley, and Newton, all in the parish of Mottram, in Longdendale, in the said county of Chester.

16 March 1836. Hugo Worthington.

BATH.

THE court established in this place was created by an Act of Parliament passed in the year 1805, by which Act the Lord Chancellor for the time being has the power of appointing a barrister as the chairman of the court to assist the other commissioners: the court has the power to hear and decide on all actions to the amount of 10 l. for value in assumpsit debt, and also in all actions in trespass and trover, for taking or detaining goods or other property: it has the power of imprisonment in execution of the demands recovered by the judgment of the court, but this is not so much resorted to as the execution against the goods, as there is a society here for the discharge of debtors confined for small debts, who frequently compromise and settle the demands against debtors who are detained by the process of this court.

The jurisdiction of this court is very extensive and considerable: is 14 miles in length from east to west, and eight miles in breadth from north to south, which includes the following places: Bath, Batheaston, Bathford, Charlcombe, Corston, Camerton, Carnicot, Coombe, Coombe Down, Coombehay, Claverton, Charmedown, Dunkerton, Englishcombe, Englishbatch, Farley, Foscote, Freshford, Hampton, Hinton, Iford, Kelston, Katharine, Langridge, Lansdown, Lambridge, Lyncombe and Widcombe, Mitford, Mead Yeate, Northstoke, Newton, Norton, Odd Down, Pipe House, Park Corner, Rush Hill, Southstoke, Swanswick, Shorscombe, Stone Littleton, Tunley, Twerton, Tadwick, Tellisford, Wellow, Weston, Woolley and Warley.

Many of these parishes are very large, and contain a great number of inhabitants: the exact number of the present population within the jurisdiction of the court cannot be given, as Bath has daily and rapidly increased in its buildings and inhabitants since the last Parliamentary Return of the population of the kingdom, but it is supposed there are not less than 120,000 persons residing within the limits of the jurisdiction of the court.

12 March 1836. E. B. Goodall, Clerk.

"THE Court of Requests for the town and liberties of Beverley and the several parishes of the same town," possesses the power of imprisoning the person in execution; and the jurisdiction extends over the parishes of St. Mary, St. Martin, and St. Nicholas, comprising the town of Beverley; also, over the townships of Molescroft, Storkhill and Sandholme, Tickton and Hullbridge, Weel, Woodmansey and Beverley Park, and Thearne; being that part of the parish of St. John of Beverley included within the liberties, and, with the town, now forming the municipal borough.

The Court of Requests held at Wisbech is one of four divisions of a court, established by Act of Parliament, extending over the whole of the Isle of Ely, and is called the Court of Requests for the hundred of Wisbech.

It has the power of imprisoning the person in execution.

Its jurisdiction extends over the parishes of Wisbech St. Peter, Wisbech St. Mary's, Tid St. Giles, Newton, Leverington, Leverington Parson Drove, Elm, Upwell, Outwell, and the hamlet of Welney.

WOLVERHAMPTON.

The Court of Requests for the townships of Wolverhampton and Wednesfield, and the several parishes of Brewood, Pattingham, Bushbury and Pem, in the county of Stafford, was established by an Act passed the 18th of June 1808.

This Act had the power of imprisoning defendants when it first passed, and until the magistrates of the county of Stafford caused the house of correction in Wolverhampton to be taken down.

It recovers debts to the amount of 5*l.*, but not the balance of an account originally exceeding 5*l.*

John Corser, Clerk.

GREAT YARMOUTH.

The Court of Requests for the borough of Great Yarmouth, and the liberties thereof, was established by an Act of Parliament, passed in the 31st year of the reign of His Majesty, King Geo. 2, for the recovery of debts under 40*s.*, from any person or persons whatsoever inhabiting or residing within the said borough of Great Yarmouth, or the liberties thereof, or using or frequenting the markets thereof, or usually buying or selling, or seeking a livelihood therein, or sailing or navigating to and from the port and haven of Great Yarmouth aforesaid.

The court has and exercises the power of imprisoning the person in execution, and the jurisdiction extends only to the ancient chartered liberties of the borough, which includes the town of Great Yarmouth, and the parish or hamlet of South Town adjoining thereto.

Same v. William Phillips.	- - Subpœnas were issued against these Defendants for encroachments made by them on the Crown Wastes of the Manor of Fishguard, but no further proceedings were taken, and the Manor was sold by the Crown in 1823 to Thomas Hamlet, Esq. for 1,100 l.
1821: Hilary Term.	The Attorney-General v. David Williams.	- - An Information was filed against this Defendant for trespasses committed by him on the Menai Ferries. The Defendant suffered judgment by default, and entered into an undertaking not to repeat the trespass.
1824: Hilary Term.	The Attorney-General v. Daniel Thomas.	- - A Subpœna was issued against this Defendant to recover possession of an encroachment made on the Crown Wastes of the Manor or Lordship of Bromfield and Yale, in the county of Denbigh. The Defendant agreed to relinquish his encroachment, and no further proceedings were taken against him.
1825: Michaelmas Term.	The Attorney-General v. William Lewis Hughes, Esq., now Lord Dinorben.	- - An Information was filed against the Defendant to recover 36 distinct Rents claimed to be due and payable to the Crown, in respect of Lands in the county of Denbigh, the property of the Defendant, and the proceedings are now depending.
1828: Michaelmas Term.	The Attorney-General v. John Griffith.	- - An Information was filed against the Defendant to recover a Fee Farm Rent supposed to be issuing out of Lands in his possession in the county of Carnarvon: the Defendant put in his answer, denying that he was in possession of the Lands out of which the rent was claimed to be due to the Crown, and he died very soon afterwards.
1833: Michaelmas Term.	The Attorney-General v. Williams. Same v. John Brellisford. Same v. Samuel Edwards. Same v. Ferrant.	- - Subpœnas were issued against these Defendants to recover possession of encroachments made by them on the Crown Wastes of the Manor or Lordship of Bromfield and Yale. The Defendants, Brellisford and Edwards, subsequently admitted the title of the Crown; Ferrant died soon afterwards, and no further proceedings were had.
1834: Trinity Term.	The Attorney-General v. Robert Griffith, John Jones, Owen Jones, and John Griffith.	- - Subpœnas were issued against these Defendants for Trespasses committed by them on the Kilgwyn Slate Quarries, in the county of Carnarvon.

1834: Trinity Term.	The Attorney-General v. Robert Griffith, Evan Owen, David Evan Owen and Griffith Evan Owen. Same v. Evan Evan Owen, Thomas Evan Owen Griffith, William Edwards and Robert Griffith. Same v. Griffith Pritchard.	- - Upon the Subpœnas being served upon them, they discontinued the trespasses, and no further proceedings were had.
1834: Trinity Vacation.	The Attorney-General v. Robert Hartley.	- - A Subpœna was issued against this Defendant to recover an encroachment on the Crown Wastes within the Manor or Lordship of Bromfield and Yale. The Defendant subsequently purchased the encroachment, and no further proceedings were had.
1834: Michaelmas Term.	The Attorney-General v. William Williams.	- - An Information of Intrusion was filed against the Defendant to recover possession of certain encroachments made upon the Crown Wastes within the Lordship of Croython, in the county of Denbigh. The suit proceeded to issue, and was on the eve of trial, when the Defendant withdrew his plea, and an unconditional judgment was signed against him.
1835: Hilary Term.	The Attorney-General v. James Bye, Robert Williams, John Hughes, and John Pritchard.	- - Informations were filed against these Defendants for quarrying and carrying away the Stone at Pemudemhos, in the county of Carnarvon.
	The Attorney-General v. Thomas Griffith, Hugh Findlay, Thomas Jones and Edward Hughes. Same v. Moses Williams, Hugh Williams, Thomas Hughes and Robert Evans.	- - Since the Informations were filed, a Lease has been granted to Mr. Clough, which enables him to protect the property by taking trespassers thereon before the magistrates. The informations have consequently been abandoned
1835: Michaelmas Term.	The Attorney-General v. Morgan Jones. Same v. Morgan Powell. Same v. William Rowland.	- - Subpœnas were issued against these Defendants for encroachments upon the Crown Wastes within the Lordship of Croythin, in the county of Cardigan. In the hope that the decision of the case of "The Attorney-General v. Williams" would settle the question as to the rights of the Crown to the Wastes in dispute, no further proceedings have been taken.
1836: Hilary Term.	The Attorney-General v. Cecil Parsons, Guy Parsons, Frances Parsons, widow, and Richard Rogers.	- - An Information of Intrusion was filed against these Defendants to recover possession of encroachments upon the Waste of the Manor of Iscoed, in the county of Radnor. This Information was tried at the last Hereford Assizes, when a verdict was found for the Crown.
1836: Easter Term.	Doe, on the demise of His Majesty v. John Lloyd.	- - An Action of Ejectment was commenced to vacate the Lease granted to the Defendant of certain Mines in the parish of Llysfaen, in the county of Carnarvon, in consequence of the Defendant having committed a breach of his covenant in not working the same. Judgment was signed against the Defendant by default, and possession, delivered by the Sheriff under a Writ of Habere facias possessionem.

Note.—The Commissioners of Woods have no means of making out any return of Suits or Proceedings instituted by the Crown's Lessees or Representatives. In the case of an action which was brought by Mr. Jones against Messrs. Rawlinson & Co., the Crown Lessees of the Quarries in the parishes of Clanlechid and Dwygglfylchi, in the county of Carnarvon, the Commissioners afforded every assistance in their power to the agents of the lessees to perfect their defence to the action, and to substantiate the Title of the Crown to the Quarries in question. The action was tried at the Midsummer Assizes (1835) for Carnarvon, and the Defendants obtained a verdict, by which the Title of the Crown to the Quarries was in effect established.

CLAIMS preferred to MINERALS, &c., and by whom; also, Statement of the Legal Proceedings against such Claimants.

OBSERVATIONS.

Spring Assizes 1832.

Richard Pearse and others were found Guilty at the Carnarvon Spring Assizes 1832 for an assault on Mr. James Spooner, land surveyor, who was directed to survey the wastes in the Parish of Penmachno, in the Hundred of Nantconway.

The Honourable Lloyd Mostyn has since been appointed gamekeeper for the Crown, and the King's rights are fully admitted.

Spring Assizes 1834.

The Duke of Newcastle claims, and has taken possession of a lead mine called Potgol, in the Lordship of Croythin, worked by the King's tenants, Messrs Hamlet and others, and has walled up the entrance to the mine to prevent the ingress of the workmen. This mine is claimed for the Crown as being situate on the waste used as a sheep-walk by one of the tenants on the Hafod Estate, lately purchased by the Duke, which the trustees of that estate, acting under the will of the late Mr. Johnnes, had agreed to purchase, with a reservation of minerals and royalties.

The solicitors have had instructions to assert the claims of the Crown.

Spring Assizes 1835.

Mr. Elias Jones, of Gorswen, the occupier of an encroachment called Graiglwyd, taken from the King's wastes in the Hundred of Isaph, disputed the power of the Commissioners of Woods, Forests, &c., to grant a lease of the minerals and stone to be found within the said encroachment. He brought an action of Trespass against the trustees, Messrs. Rowlandson, Jones and Hughes, which was tried at the Carnarvon Summer Assizes 1835, and a verdict given for the defendants, thereby establishing the King's rights to the minerals and to the encroachment.

Spring Assizes 1835.

Mr. William Ormsby Gore, M.P., has taken possession of a large piece of waste ground on Moelwyn Mountain, in His Majesty's Lordship of Pennlin, in the county of Merioneth, under the pretence of its being his private sheep-walk. There is a very valuable slate rock on the common, which has been applied for by the Welsh Slate Company. Mr. Gore has lately set some men to work, and has given legal notice that he means to dispute the rights of the King to this waste. The solicitors have been directed to obtain the proper evidence, and such other information as may be necessary to assert the rights of the Crown to the Royalties by action against Mr. Gore.

Spring Assizes 1836.

Some encroachment on the wastes within the Manor of Iscoed, in the county of Radnor, which had been sold by the Crown to Mr. Watt in 1826, having been claimed by Mr. Parsons, a solicitor at Presteign, and other members of his family, and also by Mr. Watt; and the Court of Common Pleas having decided, on a special case in 1834, that the encroachments had not passed to Mr. Watt with the manor, as was intended by the conveyance made to him, but that they still remained in the Crown, an action of intrusion was brought by the Crown against Mr. Parsons to recover possession of the encroachments in question, which was tried at Hereford on Friday last, the 5th instant, and a verdict having been returned in favour of the Crown, the encroachments will forthwith be conveyed to Mr. Watt.

Numerous other encroachments have been made on the Crown's wastes within the Principality of Wales; some of which have been claimed by the parties now in possession to be their freehold property. Legal proceedings, however, have been deferred in those cases until the result of the trial with Mr. Parsons.

COURT OF CHANCERY, IRELAND.

CERTIFICATE of the Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury of the Gross and Net Average Annual Value of the FEES and EMOLUMENTS of certain Officers of the COURT OF CHANCERY in Ireland, under the Act of the 4 & 5 Will. IV. c. 78; and TREASURY WARRANT thereon.

Whitehall Treasury Chambers,
4 August 1836.

F. BARING.

CERTIFICATE of the Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury of the Gross and Net Average Annual Value of the FEES and EMOLUMENTS of certain Officers of the COURT of CHANCERY in Ireland, under the Act of the 4th & 5th Will. IV. c. 78.

AFTER Our hearty commendations: Whereas by an Act passed in the fourth and fifth years of the reign of King William the Fourth, cap. 78, intituled, "An Act for the Amendment of the Proceedings and Practice of the High Court of Chancery in Ireland," it is (amongst other things) enacted, "That it shall be lawful for the Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury for the time being, or any three or more of them, by warrant or warrants under their hands, to order and direct that such Compensation shall be made to the Six Clerks of the said Court of Chancery, and to such other officers who hold office in or belonging to the said Court, and whose lawful fees and emoluments have been or shall be diminished or taken away by the operation of certain Orders of Court of the 31st day of January 1834, or by this Act, or any General Order or Orders to be made in pursuance thereof, as to the said Lord High Treasurer, or the said Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, in their discretion shall seem just and reasonable." And by the said Act it is further enacted, "That every officer of the said Court who shall claim compensation thereunder, shall render to the said Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, an account in writing, verified on oath, to be sworn before one of the Masters of the said Court, of the gross and net emoluments, and also of the disbursements of his office, in each of the three years next preceding the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three; and also an account of all lawful fees, salary, compensation, emoluments or allowances, of whatever nature, as shall have been received during the said three years by the said officer, or for his use, and shall also set forth a particular of the several and respective acts, matters and things in respect of which any fee or emolument shall have been received, charged or claimed, and also a particular of all allowances and disbursements made thereout, and charges affecting the same, in each of the said three years; and the said Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury shall ascertain, by all proper ways and means, the gross and net annual value, according to a fair average of the said three years, of the said lawful fees and emoluments, and also the disbursements of such office as aforesaid; and when the said Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury shall have ascertained the gross and net value of the fees and emoluments of such offices and employments, or any of them, computed as aforesaid, they shall lay copies of their certificates thereof before both Houses of Parliament." And whereas the Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury have, by virtue of the powers vested in them by the said recited Acts, caused a full inquiry and examination to be made, by all such ways and means as appeared to them to be necessary and proper, into the accounts rendered in pursuance of that Act, by the following officers, who have claimed compensation under the provisions of the said Act, for the purpose of ascertaining the gross and net annual value, according to a fair average of the three years next preceding the 1st day of November 1833, of the said offices respectively. Now, therefore, We, being three of the Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, Do hereby certify the gross and net annual value of the lawful fees and emoluments of the under-mentioned officers respectively to be as follow, namely:

Given under our hands at the Treasury Chambers, Whitehall, this 3d day of August 1836.

To the Lord High Chancellor of Ireland, and to the Lords Commissioners for the Custody of the Great Seal of Ireland, and to all others herein concerned.

WARRANT of the Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, ordering and directing the Amount of COMPENSATION to be paid to certain Officers of the COURT of CHANCERY in Ireland, under the Act of the 4th & 5th Will. IV., c. 78.

AFTER our hearty commendations: Whereas by an Act passed in the fourth and fifth years of the reign of King William the Fourth, cap. 78, intituled, "An Act for the Amendment of the Proceedings and Practice of the High Court of Chancery in Ireland," it is (amongst other things) enacted, "That it shall be lawful for the Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury for the time being, or any three or more of them, by warrant or warrants under their hands, to order and direct that such Compensation shall be made to the Six Clerks of the said Court of Chancery, and to such other officers who hold office in or belonging to the said Court, and whose lawful fees and emoluments have been or shall be diminished or taken away by the operation of certain Orders of Court of the 31st day of January 1834, or by this Act, or any General Order or Orders to be made in pursuance thereof, as to the said Lord High Treasurer or said Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, in their discretion shall seem just and reasonable." And by the said Act it is further enacted, "That every officer of the said Court who shall claim compensation thereunder, shall render to the said Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, an account in writing, verified on oath, to be sworn before one of the Masters of the said Court, of the gross and net emoluments, and also of the disbursements, of his office, in each of the three years next preceding the 1st day of November 1833; and also an account of all lawful fees, salary, compensation, emoluments or allowances, of whatever nature, as shall have been received during the said three years by the said officer or for his use, and shall also set forth a particular of the several and respective acts, matters and things in respect of which any fee or emolument shall have been received, charged or claimed, and also a particular of all allowances and disbursements made thereout, and charges affecting the same, in each of the said three years; and the said Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, shall ascertain, by all proper ways and means, the gross and net annual value, according to a fair average of the said three years, of the said lawful fees and emoluments, and also the disbursements of such office as aforesaid; and when the said Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, shall have ascertained the gross and net value of the fees and emoluments of such offices and employments, or any of them, computed as aforesaid, they shall lay copies of their certificates thereof before both Houses of Parliament." And by the said Act it is further enacted, "That it shall be lawful for every officer claiming compensation as therein before-mentioned, on the first day of Hilary Term 1836, and on every succeeding first day of Hilary Term, and for one month thereafter, in each year respectively, so long as the said officer shall hold his office, to render to the said Lord High Treasurer or Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury an account in writing, to be verified in like manner, of the gross and net emoluments of the said office, and of the disbursements thereof, and also an account of all such lawful fees, salary, compensation, emoluments, and allowances, of whatever nature, as shall have been received by the said officer or for his use, and a particular of all allowances and disbursements made thereout, and charges affecting the same, in and for the year next preceding the first day of Hilary Term in each succeeding year; and the said Lord High Treasurer or the said Commissioners as aforesaid shall ascertain, as they shall think proper, the gross and net income of such office, and also the disbursements thereof, for and during the year for which such accounts shall be rendered, and the amount of compensation to which he or they shall deem such officer entitled for and during the said year; and the several and respective sums as and for compensation which the said Lord High Treasurer or the Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury shall, by warrant or warrants as aforesaid, order and direct to be paid to any officer of the said Court, shall be paid and payable to the officer or officers named in such warrant or warrants out of the account called "An Account of the Interest and Produce of the Compensation and Fee Fund of the Suitors of the Court of Chancery in Ireland," as far as the same will extend, and in case the said Suitors' Fund shall be inadequate to the payment of the whole amount of compensation to be given under this Act, the amount of the compensation beyond what cannot be satisfied out of the said Suitors' Fund, shall be charged upon and paid out of the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom, without any fee or deduction whatsoever, to the officer or officers named in the warrant or warrants of the Lord High Treasurer or the Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury as aforesaid.

And whereas by a certificate given under our hands, addressed to the Lord High Chancellor of Ireland, and to the Lords Commissioners for the Custody of the Great Seal of Ireland, and bearing equal date with this Warrant, We certified the gross and net annual value of the lawful fees and emoluments of the several officers in the Court of Chancery in Ireland, who claimed Compensation under the provisions of the herein-before recited Act, ascertained and computed according to a fair average of the three years next preceding the 1st day of November 1833, as directed by the said Act:

And whereas the under-mentioned officers respectively so claiming compensation as aforesaid, have rendered to the Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury an account in writing, verified before one of the Masters of the Court of Chancery, of the fees and emoluments received by them, and of the disbursements made thereout, in and for the year next preceding the first day of Hilary Term 1836, in pursuance of the said recited Act; and certain of the said officers have likewise rendered accounts of the loss sustained by them in the year 1834, in respect of their lawful fee upon petitions, which was diminished by the operation of the General Orders of the Court of Chancery, dated the 31st January 1834.

And whereas, We, being three Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, have, by virtue of the powers vested in us by the said recited Act, inquired and examined fully into the accounts so rendered by the said officers; Now, therefore, We do hereby certify, by warrant under our hands, that it is just and reasonable that the following compensations should be made to the several officers under-mentioned for lawful fees and emoluments which have been diminished or taken away from them by the operation of certain orders of the Court of Chancery in Ireland, dated the 31st day of January 1834, and by the before-recited Act, and by certain general orders made in pursuance thereof; and We do therefore order and direct, that the following sums, as and for compensation, shall be paid and payable to the said officers respectively, being the amount to which we deem the said several officers entitled down to the first day of Hilary Term 1836, according to the accounts rendered to us by them to that period, namely:

RETURNS of all FEES for the Year 1835, charged by JUDGES' CRIERS in Circuit in Ireland;—also of FEES charged by CLERKS OF THE CROWN in Ireland, for Summonses to compel Attendance of Witnesses.

KING'S BENCH.

Lower Mount-street, Dublin, 28 April 1836.

THE chief justice's crier, in spring 1835, upon the home circuit, did not charge any fee for any matters whatsoever, other than according to the following table, which the crier has returned to me as that by which alone he regulated his charges upon the summer circuit of 1835, and every other circuit since his appointment.

A RETURN of all FEES for the Year 1835, charged by the Chief Justice's Crier on Circuit, for Affidavits, Recognizances, Records, Appeals, Traverses and Burning Petitions.

In the Crown Court:
On the trial of any traverse to a grand-jury presentment	–	5	–
On the hearing of any petition for compensation for malicious injury, by burning or otherwise	–	5	–
In the Civil Court:
For each record tried, whether by a special or common jury	–	10	6
On each recognizance or bail-piece acknowledged before the judge	–	5	–
On each affidavit sworn in court	–	1	–

Neither of the criers is able to state the amount or particulars of the fees received according to those tables in the year 1835, not having kept any account thereof; and the crier has further stated, that no fees are charged by him, or paid to him by any sub-sheriff, nor does he know of any Act under which they could be charged; the sums which he has at any time received from the sub-sheriffs not being fees demandable by him, but mere gratuities, as hereafter more particularly mentioned.

As to "the salaries payable by each county and county of a city in Ireland, to the judges' criers," they are specified in the "table of classification of counties and salaries of county officers," referred to and annexed to the 4 Geo. 4, c. 43, to which I beg leave to refer you, and to add, that such payment of fees to the crier is agreeable to resolutions entered into by the twelve judges in January and February 1824, in consequence of the Act then recently passed, 4 Geo. 4, c. 43, by which a certain class of fees theretofore payable by presentment of the grand jury to certain officers, under the 49 Geo. 3, c. 101, and 1 & 2 Geo. 4, c. 77, were commuted for salaries: and the judges being assembled for the purpose of regulating the office of their criers generally, (inasmuch as the statute of 4 Geo. 4, c. 43, was confined to fees in the crown court theretofore payable by presentment), after examining into the sums formerly claimed and paid, they determined that their criers were only entitled to the fees stated in the above tables*, and that certain gratuities theretofore paid to the crier by certain persons were not demandable of right, but mere courtesies, which it is optional with the party to pay or not; such as money customarily given by barristers and attornies to the crier of each court, in consequence of his attending to their accommodation therein; and a sum given by the sub-sheriff, varying in amount according to his discretion, in consequence of the crier assisting the sheriff in preserving order in the courts, for which the sheriff is responsible, as being part of his duty: but as the amount of those sums paid by the sub-sheriff seems to be required by the order of the 24th March last, in which they are alluded to by the name of fees, I have ascertained from the crier, that according to his experience, it has been the habit for the criers to divide those sums between them, and that upon the spring home circuit of 1835, the sums so received from the sub-sheriffs amounted, for each crier, to the following:

In the county of Meath	3	–	–
In the county of Westmeath	2	10	–
In the King's County	2	10	–
In the Queen's County	2	15	–
In the county of Carlow	–	10	–
In the county of Kildare	5	–	–

And upon the same circuit, in summer assizes 1835, the same sums were given in all the counties, except the county of Carlow, where the sheriff did not give anything to either.

John Phillips,
Registrar to the Chief Justice.

* There was another fee of 5 s. included in the rule made by the judges, as payable upon the traverse of a still-fine information, which is not mentioned in the above tables, because several years before 1835 that description of proceeding had been discontinued.

A RETURN of all FEES for the Year 1835, stated by Mr. George Henderson, Crier to the Honourable Judge Burton, to have been charged by him on Circuit.

In the Nisi Prius Court:
For each affidavit sworn in said court on civil business	–	1	–
(No fee charged on any affidavit sworn in criminal court).
For each recognizance or bail-piece, acknowledged before the judge in civil court	–	5	–
(But no fee on any recognizance connected with the business of the crown court).
For each record tried by Nisi Prius	–	10	6
In the Crown Court:
On the trial of any traverse to a grand-jury presentment, and upon the hearing of any petition for compensation for malicious injury, whether by burning or otherwise	–	5	–
(No traverse to any still fine information for year 1835).
(No sum has been demanded by him as a fee on the hearing of civil-bill appeals).

The above fees for the crier appear to be agreeable to certain resolutions entered into by the twelve judges in January and February 1824, which were entered into in consequence of the Act of Parliament of 4 Geo. 4, c. 43, then recently passed, by which a certain class of fees theretofore payable to certain officers, under 49 Geo. 3, c. 101, and 1 & 2 Geo. 4, c. 77, were commuted for salaries: and the judges having assembled for the purpose of regulating the office of their criers generally (inasmuch as the statute of 4 Geo. 4, c. 43, was confined to fees in the crown court, formerly paid by presentment), after examining into the other sums theretofore claimed and paid, they determined that their criers were only entitled to the above-mentioned fees, and that certain gratuities theretofore paid to the crier by certain persons were not demandable of right, but mere courtesies, which it is optional with the party to pay or not. Amongst those customary payments, were sums given by barristers and attornies to the crier of each court, in consequence of his attending to their accommodation therein; and a sum given by the sub-sheriff, varying in amount according to his discretion, to be divided between both criers, in consequence of their assisting him in preserving order in the court, which is the sheriff's duty, and for which he is responsible. As the amount of these sums paid by the sub-sheriff seems to be required by the said order of 24th March last, in which they are alluded to by the name of fees, Judge Burton's crier has stated that upon the Connaught circuit, in spring 1835, he received:

	£.	s.	d.
In the county of Roscommon	4	–	–
In the county of Leitrim	Nil.
In the county of Sligo	3	–	–
In the county of Mayo	3	10	–
In the county of Galway	4	–	–
In the county of town of Galway	1	10	–

And that upon the same circuit in summer 1835, the same sums only were paid to him, and nothing given by the sheriff of the county of Leitrim.

No other sum has been paid by any sub-sheriff, nor has any sum been demanded from him as a fee, under any Act of Parliament or otherwise, save as aforesaid.

By the said Act of 4 Geo. 4, c. 43, the following salaries have been presented for by the grand juries of the respective counties, as pointed out by the table of classification of counties and salary of county officers:

Spring 1835:	£.	s.	d.
County of Roscommon	5	10	9
County of Sligo	4	12	3½
County of Galway	6	18	5½

This salary being in lieu of fees theretofore presented by the grand jury, can only be claimed by the crier of the judge presiding in the crown court.

Similar presentments were made for Judge Burton's crier, for the summer circuit 1835.

29 April 1836.

(signed) Samuel S. Reeves,
Registrar to Hon. Judge Burton.

11, Grenville-street, Dublin, 25 April 1836.

BEING myself personally unacquainted with the subject, I have made inquiry from the crier of Mr. Justice Crampton, as to the fees charged by him on circuit in the year 1835, and as to the fees paid to him by each sub-sheriff, and the salaries received by him from each county and county of a city during the same period; and I have been furnished by him with a return, a copy of which I subjoin.

(signed) R. A. Walker,
Registrar to Judge Crampton.

A RETURN of all FEES for the Year 1835, charged by me on Circuit, for Affidavits, Recognizances, Records, Appeals, Traverses and Burning Petitions; also of all FEES paid by each Sub-sheriff; and also of all FEES or SALARIES paid by each County and County of a City, to me, as the Crier of Mr. Justice Crampton.

Crier's Charges on Circuit 1835.

I beg leave to add, that having kept no written account of the several fees paid to me in court, according to the above scale, I am unable more particularly to set forth the several sums which I received for fees; and having been only appointed a judge's crier shortly before the spring assizes of 1835, my knowledge of the fees to which I was entitled, as such, was very imperfect. In this year, 1836, I procured a copy of an order of the judges, made upon the subject of criers' fees in 1824, by which, of course, my demands must be hereafter regulated.

(signed) Jonas Catlin,
Crier to Judge Crampton.

25 April 1836.

AS Mr. Justice Perrin did not go circuit as judge until this year, fees could not have been received by his crier previous to the last assizes.

Sackville-street, 3 May 1836. George S. Kildahl.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

RETURN of James Moore.

I AM not entitled to, nor do I receive any fee whatsoever. I am paid by a salary of 120 l. a year, late Irish currency, payable quarterly at the Treasury, pursuant to the provisions of the 1 & 2 Geo. 4, c. 53, schedule D.

James Moore.

RETURN of J. Daimpre.

AS the spring circuit of the present year 1836, was the only occasion on which I acted as crier, this is the only Return which I can transmit.

In each of the counties of Wicklow, Waterford and Tipperary, in which I acted as crier in the criminal court, I received by presentment the sums specified in the schedule to the statute of 4 Geo. 4, c. 43; viz.

	£.	s.	d.
In Wicklow	5	–	–	late currency
In Waterford	5	–	–	—
In Tipperary	7	10	–	—

It has been customary for the sub-sheriff in each county on circuit, to give the judge's crier a gratuity for his services in the civil court; and by an agreement entered into by the criers on last circuit, such sums were divided between them.

My receipts upon the last spring circuit, under this head, were as follows:

	£.	s.	d.
In the county of Wicklow	3	–	–
In the county of Wexford	3	–	–
In the county of Waterford	3	–	–
In the county of Kilkenny	3	10	–
In the county of Tipperary	5	–	–

I was informed that the judges, at a meeting held the 28th January 1824, were unanimously of opinion, that the criers, notwithstanding the Act 4 Geo. 4, c. 43, were entitled to all ancient fees except those on the trial of prisoners; and accordingly I charged the following fees:

	£.	s.	d.
For each recognizance	–	5	–
For each record	–	10	6
– – Ditto – if special	1	1	–
Civil-bill appeals	no fee.
Traverses and burning petitions	–	5	–

For affidavits no fee charged, but a gratuity usually given.

And from the gentlemen of the bar as a gratuity, but not demanded as a matter of right, as follows:

	£.	s.	d.
From each King's counsel	–	10	6
Outer barristers	–	5	–

(signed) J. Daimpre.

RETURN of all FEES claimed by or paid to Mr. Samuel Ward, the Crier of Mr. Justice Moore, for the year 1835.

Affidavits.—No fee has been charged on affidavits, although it has been usual to consider the crier entitled to a fee of 1 s. on the civil side, and that on the criminal side also he was entitled to a similar fee; but that by a resolution made at a meeting of the judges in 1824, the several criers were expressly ordered not to claim it.

Recognizances.—In civil cases, (but never in criminal,) where recognizances are entered into before the judge on circuit, and which seldom occurs, he claims a fee of 5 s. 5 d., late Irish currency, on each recognizance, in conformity with the resolution of the judges in 1824.

Records.—On the trial of records, the crier, under the same judicial sanction, claims a fee of 11 s. 4½ d., late Irish currency, on each verdict recorded, whether the jury be special or common.

Appeals.—He claims no fee on appeals.

Traverses and burning Petitions.—Under the resolution of the judges in 1824, the crier claims a fee of 5 s., late Irish currency, on the trial of traverses of presentments for roads, whether the traverse be for damages or on the ground of inutility; and the like fee on burning petitions.

As regards the sums paid by the several sub-sheriffs within the prescribed period, the crier received the following:

Leinster Circuit, Lent Assizes 1835.—From the sub-sheriffs of the counties of Wicklow, Wexford and Waterford, 3 l. each; and from the sub-sheriff of the county of Tipperary 5 l.

North-east Circuit, Summer Assizes 1835.—From the sheriffs of the county of the town of Drogheda, he received no sum whatsoever; from the sub-sheriff of the county of Louth, 3 l.; from the sub-sheriffs of Monaghan, Armagh, Antrim and Down, 5 l. each; and from the sheriffs of the town of Carrickfergus, 1 l.

It is to be observed, that these sums are not claimed or received as fees under any statute or in any other right, but are voluntarily given by the sheriffs (and it is understood have been so given for a long period of time) as a remuneration or gratuity for services and assistance afforded them by the crier in discharge of their duties at the assizes; these gratuities vary in amount according to circumstances and the pleasure of the sub-sheriffs, and are sometimes withheld altogether.

The

The fees or salary paid to the crier by each county and county of a city, for Lent and summer assizes 1835, were those specified by statute to be presented by the several grand juries for the judge's crier, and were the following:

	£.	s.	d.
Leinster Lent Assizes 1835:
Counties of Wicklow and Waterford	4	12	3	each.
City of Kilkenny	1	10	–
County of Tipperary	7	10	–

County of Antrim	6	18	5

29 April 1836. Henry Tydd, Registrar.

A RETURN of all FEES for the year 1835, stated by Mr. John Byrne, Judge Johnson's Crier, to have been charged by him on Circuit.

There was no traverse to any still fine for 1835.
No sum has been demanded by him as a fee on the hearing of civil-bill appeals.

The criers of the different judges have been in the habit of receiving from the respective sheriffs of the different counties, and counties of cities, where they acted as criers, certain sums as gratuities, varying in amount in different counties, according to the extent of the county, the duration of the assizes, and the consequent duties which the crier has to perform in assisting the sheriff and under-sheriff in preserving the order and regularity of the court.

Judge Johnson's crier states, that he has never, on any occasion, claimed this sum as a fee or matter of right, and the giving or withholding same altogether depends on the good-will of the sheriffs.

The assistance which the crier is able to give the sheriffs in the preservation of order, necessarily saves the sheriff the expense of employing persons for that duty; and it is for this service alone that such voluntary remuneration is given, and it has been so given, as the crier understands, as far back as memory can reach.

William Lewis, Registrar to the Hon. Judge Johnson.

RETURN from the Registrar of the Honourable Mr. Justice Torrens.

Granby Row, Dublin, April 23d.

I HAVE communicated with Mr. James Bartley, the crier of Mr. Justice Torrens, and who acted in that capacity on the Leinster circuit in the spring and summer of the year 1835; and I have obtained from him the following returns, which I believe to be correct.

First, as to fees charged by him for affidavits, recognizances, records, appeals traverses and burning petitions, he states that he has never charged any fee for an affidavit made either in the criminal or civil court, although he has been informed that in the civil court he is entitled to a fee of 1 s. on every affidavit, and that in the criminal court he is also legally entitled to the same, but that by a resolution of the judges, entered into in the year 1824, their lordships directed their criers not to take fees on affidavits made in the criminal court.

On recognizances entered into before the judges in civil cases, he takes a fee, pursuant to the resolution of the judges, of 5 s. 5 d. late currency; these are of rare occurrence. In the year 1835 the crier had but one fee of this description.

On the trial of records, he charges a fee of 11 s. 4 ½ d. late currency, on each verdict found and recorded; this, whether the case be tried by a common or special jury. On one special-jury case on the circuit of 1835, he being then unwell from cold caught in the court-house of Clonmel, the attorney obtaining the verdict left, for his use, with the person who acted for him in that case, the fee of one guinea; but he has never claimed said fee as of right.

On appeals he charges no fee whatsoever. On the trials of traverses to road presentments for damages, or on their general merits, he charges a fee of 5 s. late currency.

On burning petitions the like.

In the charging of all the foregoing fees, the crier understands he is warranted by the resolution of the judges entered into in the year 1824.

With respect to the gratuities given to him by the respective sheriffs of the different counties and counties of cities, where he has acted as crier, said gratuities vary in amount in different counties, according to the extent of the county, the duration of the assizes, and the consequent duties which the crier has to perform in assisting the sheriff and under-sheriff in preserving the order and regularity of the court.

In some counties he has not received anything at all; but he has never, on any occasion, claimed the sum as a fee or matter of right, and the giving or withholding said gratuity altogether depends on the good-will of the sheriffs.

The assistance which the crier is able to give the sheriff in the preservation of order, necessarily saves the sheriff the expense of employing persons for that duty; and it is for this service alone that such voluntary remuneration is given.

On the Leinster circuit in 1835, he received from the sub-sheriff of the different counties and cities, at each assizes, as follows: county Wicklow 3 l., county Wexford 3 l., city of Waterford 3 l., county Kilkenny 4 l., county Tipperary 5 l. Such gratuities were unasked for, or claimed by the crier, and were voluntarily presented to him by the under-sheriff for his assistance, as before alluded to.

With respect to the salaries paid to the crier when acting in the criminal court, he has received at each assizes in the year 1835, the sums specified in the statute, on the presentment of the grand jury, and which are as follows: county Wexford 4 l. 12 s. 3 d., city of Waterford 2 l. 6 s., county Kilkenny 4 l. 12 s. 3 d.

I have thought it right that the crier should sign this return and report, as well as myself, for more accurate authentication.

Andrew Torrens, Registrar to the Hon. Judge Torrens.
James Bartley.

RETURN as to the Crier of Baron Smith.

I HAVE received an answer from John Connolly, the crier of Baron Smith, from which I learn, that upon records (each) he has received 10 s. 6 d.; upon recognizances 5 s.; upon traverses and burning petitions 5 s. That upon affidavits he has demanded 1 s., and has received from that amount to, occasionally, 2 s. 6 d., but has not taken anything upon affidavits sworn by prisoners. Upon appeals, some have given him nothing, others have given him from 1 s. to 2 s. 6 d. From sheriffs, for whom he has done a great deal which he understood was not his duty, he has sometimes received from 1 l. to 5 l., at their pleasure, and at other times has received nothing. He has received from counties, by presentment, the salaries appointed by Act of Parliament, and no more. He does not remember to have received any from cities or towns; but if any was provided for him by law, he supposes he did receive whatever was his right.

Stephen's Green, 4 May 1836. George Fleetwood.

No traverse to any still-fine information, for the year 1835.
No sum has been demanded by him as a fee on the hearing of civil-bill appeals.

The criers of the different judges have been in the habit of receiving from the respective sheriffs of the different counties and counties of cities, where they acted as criers, certain sums as gratuities, varying in amount in different counties, according to the extent of the county, the duration of the assizes, and the consequent duties which the crier has to perform in assisting the sheriff and under-sheriff in preserving the order and regularity of the court.

In some counties, Baron Pennefather's crier states that he has not received any thing at all, but he has never, on any occasion, claimed the sum as a fee, or matter of right; and the giving or withholding said gratuity altogether depends on the good-will of the sheriffs.

The assistance which the crier is able to give the sheriff in the preservation of order necessarily saves the sheriff the expense of employing persons for that duty, and it is for this service alone that such voluntary remuneration is given. It has been given, as the crier understands, as far back as memory can reach.

On the North-east Circuit, in Spring 1835, he received—

	£.	s.	d.
In the county of the town of Drogheda	–	15	–
county of Louth	3	–	–

county of Cavan	2	10	–
county of Fermanagh	2	10	–
county of Tyrone	3	–	–
county of Donegal	nothing.
county and city of Londonderry	nothing.

The criers have also been in the habit of receiving certain gratuities from barristers and attorneys, in consequence of their attending to their accommodation in busines in court.

With respect to the salaries paid to the criers when acting in the crown court, Baron Pennefather's crier states, that he has received in the year 1835 the sums specified in the statute, on the presentment of the grand jury, and which are as follows:

	£.	s.	d.
Spring, 1835:
County of Louth	4	12	3
County of Armagh	5	10	9
County of Down	6	18	5
And for Summer, 1835:
County of Cavan	5	10	9
County of Tyrone	6	18	5
County and city of Londonderry	6	18	5

(For Samuel Delap, Registrar to Hon. Baron Pennefather,)

29 April 1836. Samuel S. Reeves.

RETURN as to the Crier of Baron Foster.

Henrietta-street, Dublin, 25 April 1836.

AS registrar to Baron Foster, I have called upon his crier for a statement of "all fees charged by him for the year 1835, for affidavits, recognizances, records, appeals, traverses and burning petitions; also of all fees paid by each sub-sheriff in Ireland to the judges' criers, and under what Act; also all fees or salaries paid by each county and county of a city to him." And I learn from him, that as to affidavits in the crown court, he has neither charged nor received any fee, although he considers himself entitled to a fee of 1 s. on every affidavit sworn in the crown court by any other person than a prisoner.

That in the civil court the affidavits sworn have been very few; on which he has received fees varying from 1 s. to 2 s. 6 d.

That as to recognizances, he has neither charged nor received any fee for any recognizance connected with the business of the crown court; but that in the very few instances in which recognizances have been taken in civil cases on the circuit, under the orders of the superior courts in Dublin, he has, according to what he considers his undoubted right, received a fee of 5 s.

That as to records, he has charged a fee of 10 s. 6 d. on each record tried, and 1 l. 1 s. when tried by a special jury. He has claimed these as his legal fees, but in very many instances they have not been paid to him.

As to appeals, he has neither charged nor received any fee.

As to traverses, he has, according to his legal right, charged a fee of 5 s. on each road traverse that has been tried, but on no other description of traverse has he charged or received any fee.

As to burning petitions, he has charged, according to his legal right, 5 s. upon each; but in very many instances payment has been withheld from him.

As to fees paid by sub-sheriffs, he has neither charged nor received anything as a fee; but most sub-sheriffs have, according to a custom long prevalent, given him a gratuity varying in amount from 1 l. to 5 l. Of course there is no Act of Parliament regulating a payment which is purely voluntary on their part when made; it frequently is withheld.

The crier considers that the practice originated in the fact of the crier performing many duties which belong not to the crier, but to the sub-sheriff; and for the performance of which, by some other person, the sub-sheriff would be bound to provide, if the voluntary act of the crier did not excuse him from that necessity.

As to the salaries paid by the counties, they are set forth in 4 Geo. 4, c. 43; they are payable to the crier who acts in the crown court only. They vary from 3 l. to 15 l., as set forth in the Act.

George Henry Pentland, Registrar to Baron Foster.

On the 24th of December last we had three justices of the peace, viz. Robert Wheeler, esq. then mayor; Sir Giffin Wilson, knight, recorder; and Thomas Westwood, esq. ex-mayor.

Under the 38th section of the Municipal Act these justices will go out of office on the 1st of May next, thereby leaving the corporation with but one magistrate (the present mayor) to the 9th of November following. I trust that the Attorney-general will introduce a clause in his Bill to remedy this defect in the Municipal Act, as it will be very inconvenient for this and other corporations having no desire for a commission of the peace, to be thus situated.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

RETURN to an Address of The Honourable the House of Commons, dated 29 March 1836;—for,

COPY of a CIRCULAR LETTER from the UNDER SECRETARY of STATE for the HOME DEPARTMENT, dated in October last, addressed to the MAYOR or Chief Officer of any of the BOROUGHS contained in the SCHEDULES of the Act 5 & 6 WILL. IV. cap. 76.

SIR, Whitehall, Oct. 1, 1835.

I HAVE already, in conformity to the directions of Lord John Russell, transmitted to you a copy of the Municipal Corporations Act, and of the Order in Council of the 11th September. I now transmit a copy of a Supplementary Order of the 30th September.

I am likewise directed to forward to you a copy of Instructions which have been addressed to Overseers, framed upon the Provisions of the Act.

You will observe that, by Section 38, the existing Mayor and Members of the Council, or Governing Body, are to go out of office after the declaration of the first election of Councillors under this Act.

You will likewise observe, that where, by any Statute, Charter, Bye-law, or custom, any election is to take place between the time of the passing of the Act and the first day of May next, no such election shall take place; but every person holding office at the time of the passing of this Act, shall continue to hold such office till the time appointed by the Act for him to go out of office. You will perceive that, by the Order in Council issued in pursuance of the powers given by the Act, some of the days mentioned in the Act are changed to other days, but, with this alteration, the directions contained in the Act are to be strictly observed.

With respect to any vacancy by death, where by any Statute or Charter it is necessary to proceed to a new election, there is no express provision in the Act which would make such election illegal; and the Governing Body of the Corporation will take that course which the urgency of the case, or the positive directions of the Charter, may seem in their judgment to require.

The provision in Sec. 30 of the Act, that, wherever any day appointed for any purpose shall happen on a Sunday, the business shall be done on the Monday following, must be construed as equally applicable to any days appointed by the Order in Council of the 11th inst.

I am directed to request, that, so soon as the declaration of Councillors has been made, you will signify to the new Councillors, that within Five Days they must make and sign the declaration mentioned in Sec. 50.—You will likewise take the precaution to call their attention to Sec. 51, whereby the fine for non-acceptance of office is made in some degree discretionary with the Council.

I am likewise to request, that in case your Borough is in Schedule (A.) of the Act, you will make it publicly known to the new Council, that any recommendation which they may think fit to make of persons qualified to be entrusted by His Majesty with the Commission of the Peace for the Borough of which they are the Governing Body, will have its due weight with the advisers of the Crown.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

S. M. Phillipps.

Thos. Gildea,
Clerk of the Peace.

COUNTY OF MEATH.

THE Justices have not for many years last past registered their Commissions with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Meath; therefore I have no way of ascertaining who are in the Commission of the Peace, or who are resident on non-resident, or who are Deputy Lieutenants, as not attending at any Petty Sessions, I do not know who act, and can only from recollection state those who attend the Quarter Sessions. Any return to be made would be quite useless and very imperfect.

Clerk of Peace, County Meath.

JOHN HARDY (OF ARMAGH.)

RETURN to an Order of the Honourable The House of Commons, dated 21 March 1836;—for,

COPIES of all CORRESPONDENCE and COMMUNICATIONS between the present and late LORDS CHANCELLORS of Ireland, the VICE LIEUTENANT of the County of Armagh, and others, respecting the Suspension of JOHN HARDY, Esq. from acting as Magistrate, and his subsequent restoration to that office.

—No. 1.—

COPY of LETTER from Sir E. B. Sugden to John Hardy, Esq., dated Ely Place, March 20, 1835.

Sir,

BY the command of the Lord Lieutenant, certain evidence, taken upon an investigation held in the Court-house of Armagh in January last, has been transmitted to me for the purpose of drawing my attention to your conduct upon that occasion. I have attentively read your own evidence, as well as that of other witnesses, and your own evidence appears to me to establish the following facts:

1st. At seven or eight o'clock on the evening of the 16th of January, you saw ball-cartridges made in a house in Loughgall by Richard Graham; you saw only about 12 balls, and do not know how many were made in Loughgall.

2d. In consequence of what you had heard you went in the direction of Kinnigo, about eight o'clock, with Graham, and you saw a boy called Slone, in liquor, with a gun, going from Loughgall to Kinnigo, to assist the Protestants, and advised him to return.

3d. Upon your return to Loughgall you were applied to by Lavery for assistance against the Roman Catholics; you told them you had no police, and desired them to return, to put themselves in readiness to repel any attack, but on no account to proceed from the place; if they were attacked, to send you word, and you would endeavour to have assistance; you intended (not having police) to bring some of the well-disposed of the village of Loughgall with you.

4th. There was alarm amongst the people at Kinnigo, and between nine and ten o'clock at night, you and Mr. Walker, Dr. Shegag and others went in the direction of Kinnigo, with three or four guns; you met Mr. Cardwell, and all returned to Loughgall.

5th. About two o'clock in the morning Loughgall church bell rang; you cannot say who ordered the bell to be rung; "a servant informed you it was a signal to assault the Protestants," you proceeded with a party to the church, and others, all of the neighbourhood, joined you there; about 20 or 30 arrived with guns and blunderbusses, and the like; you all walked to Kinnigo; you said if any breach of the peace would ensue, you would be responsible for any act committed.

6th. You there found a Protestant party in arms, and remained there till five o'clock in the evening, and then returned to Loughgall with about 12 or 16 of your patry, leaving the rest behind; "you desired those behind not to leave their places, that is not to go from the town to make any attack, and if attacked, they would have the law on their side;" you heard shots fired after you left Kinnigo; 14 or 15 men were left behind, and they came home to Loughgall about eight o'clock on the same morning.

7th. All was tranquil at Loughgall at nine o'clock. About one o'clock you state unfavourable reports reached you, and you forwarded Cardwell's depositions, as to the houses being burned, to Mr. Henry, and you sent to Sir Thomas Molyneux, who wrote to you, stating that the yeomanry could not be called out, unless under particular circumstances.

8th. About three o'clock you proceeded through College Lands towards Kinnigo, and you state your interview with Mr. Olpherts and Sir F. Stovin; you saw John Irwin, your bailiff, and told him to go upwards, towards Kinnigo; and tell any person there that they might give up their watching, as the military were on the grounds.

9th. On Sunday morning you went to Kinnigo; found all quiet; you found about six men in Irwin's house; you said you thought they might give up their guards, as the military and police were on the watch, and patroled. But in consequence of reports as to the Roman Catholics, and of an affidavit that Donelly was going from chapel to chapel to collect a force, you appointed nine special constables, and had a guard placed in the school-room, and sent out patrols, under charge of the constables, armed with guns.

10th. About eight o'clock in the evening, Mr. Obree came into Loughgall, and spoke of the excitement on the road. About two o'clock in the morning, Mr. Obree, who is not a magistrate, came to Loughgall, accompanied with an armed party of about 100 or 150, with muskets, &c. (Donelly swears the party consisted of 150); some of the men had belts and pouches on, and Obree said he would be accountable for the conduct of his men;

" he said nothing should be done by them or party but under the command of Mr. Hardy;" some of those in Loughgall, as care-takers, joined Obree's party.

11th. You and the party went towards Drumart and the Grange, " and saw no party of people, only your own patrol;" you returned and treated the party at Cardwell's to a glass of spirits and water each (Cardwell says, they got spirits, none of them were intoxicated); other armed parties came into town, who said they heard you had sent for them, and you ordered them home.

Sir F. Stovin's evidence proves that Cardwell, about 12 o'clock on the 17th, procured a barrel and a half of gunpowder; he explains the nature of the force on Kinnigo Hill at the time the seven cabins were burning on the opposite side; he says " M'Mullen came down as the ambassador from these 150 men, and said they were defending themselves; they were all beaten the night before." He said, " The Roman Catholics were then behind the hill." Sir Frederick said, " You have arms in your hands;" M'Mullen said, " Oh, Sir, we were all beaten the night before;" Sir Frederick said, " Why did you not go to a magistrate?" and M'Mullen said, " We'll manage our own affairs."

Now, throughout most of these transactions you, although a magistrate, appear to me to have acted not in that character, and in support of the law, and with the constituted authorities, but to have joined an illegal assembly in arms, who professed to manage their own affairs, were subject to no control, and were opposed by another armed party equally unlawful, even after the military and police had been called into action under the civil authority, and had retired upon quiet being restored, and you had been informed that the yeomanry could not be called out; you appear again, upon a false alarm, to have joined an armed party, strong in numbers, in the middle of the night, and to have paraded the country with them, and afterwards regaled them, without attempting or affecting to act as a magistrate.

I am bound to say that conduct like this cannot be passed over, and I have therefore felt it my duty to suspend you from acting as a magistrate. I should not have taken this step in the first instance if your own evidence had not, in my view, rendered it imperative; but I shall be ready to give my best attention to any explanation which you can offer upon the case, as it affects your conduct.

I have the honour, &c.

Copy of LETTER from John D. Norton, Secretary to Sir E. B. Sugden, to Sir James M. Stronge, Bart., Vice Lieutenant, County Armagh; dated Secretary's Office, Court of Chancery, 25 March 1835.

Sir,

I am directed by the Lord Chancellor to inform you, that upon the consideration of the evidence taken upon an investigation held in the Court-house of Armagh, upon the conduct of Mr. Hardy, as a magistrate, and which has been laid before the Lord Chancellor, he has found himself under the necessity of suspending that gentleman from acting as a magistrate for the present.

— No. 3. —

Copy of LETTER from John Hardy, Esq., to Sir E. B. Sugden, Lord Chancellor of Ireland; dated Loughgall, 27 March 1835.

My Lord,

The communication conveyed by your Lordship's letter of the 20th instant, excited in my mind sentiments of surprise and concern.

Having had the honour of holding a commission of the peace for 17 years, without the slightest reflection on any part of my magisterial proceedings, and exerted myself often at much inconvenience, and always without remuneration, to maintain the quiet and promote the comfort of His Majesty's subjects, and having had the happiness to give satisfaction, as I believe, to all ranks and all denominations of persons, in the part of the country where I reside, without the smallest imputation of partiality, and I may add, without having my judgment called in question on any occasion, I was certainly little prepared for your Lordship's disapprobation of my conduct, in a case of extreme difficulty, when my unaided exertions seem to have been happily crowned with success, in preventing a collision between two numerous and highly-excited parties; a collision which could not well have taken place without much present bloodshed and perpetuated animosity.

Your Lordship has intimated your readiness to give your best attention to any explanation which I have to offer, and I most gladly avail myself of the opportunity afforded me of doing so, and flatter myself that the result of the remarks with which I shall trouble your Lordship will be, to cause another judgment of my character and conduct as a magistrate.

In proceeding to the charges which appear against me, I feel it necessary to advert to the excited state in which the country about Armagh has been held for several months past, originating in a dispute at races, and increased by the molesting and beating of various persons persons (especially a family named M'Whinny), Protestants, in the neighbourhood of Armagh, between Armagh and Charlemont.

On Thursday the 15th January, the election for the borough of Armagh terminated, after some days of contest; the election for the county took place on same day. Colonel Verner, the county Member, was chaired in Armagh, attended with great excitement, and many acts of outrage on all sides. In the afternoon and evening of that day various detached parties of Protestants, passing home through Armagh, were waylaid there by very large parties, as is alleged, of Roman Catholics; they were beaten, fired at and wounded; one of them, Williamson, was carried into Kinnigo dangerously hurt. This I mention, because as the sight of the wounded man amongst them was calculated to produce irritation of mind among the Kinnigo people, the majority of whom are Protestants; so also his being received there led to the firing of shots, by the opposite party, upon the house to which Williamson was conveyed. It is hardly possible to conceive the nervously-agitated state of the minds of persons of both denominations; an object which requires to be kept in view throughout my explanation. On the evening of Friday, reports were made that a large assemblage of Roman Catholics had placed themselves opposite to Kinnigo, about Kilmore, with hostile demonstrations. Kinnigo especially was threatened with attack, and thither in consequence Protestants were going from different quarters. As night approached, the excitement increased; there were no police left here, and I had been informed very few of the army or police left in Armagh, having been sent off to the elections at Monaghan and Newry. Such was the situation of the country and mine, when Lavery called upon me, about eight o'clock in the evening. Your Lordship will observe I was alone, without counsellor, without support of any kind; yet there were many hundreds to be repressed, who conceived themselves and their families endangered to the utmost. If, under circumstances of such extreme difficulty, a magistrate were somewhat to exceed the powers ordinarily vested in him, it would appear not wholly inexcusable. But, my Lord, it is my conviction that I did not exceed them; but under these most disadvantageous circumstances I was enabled to prevent a collision of the parties, and in some slight measure to quiet the alarm and allay the irritation that prevailed. I will proceed according to the numbers marked in my evidence:—

1. I left my house anxious to hear if any unusual noise or shots were to be heard in the direction of Kinnigo. I called on Richard Graham, to walk over the hill with me in that direction; saw him, as stated in my evidence, making a few ball-cartridges, and saw about twelve balls, which I looked at as the effects of the general excitement, and which I considered were for the protection of his house, and which I since find he is ready to swear to.

2. This does not appear to require explanation.

3. Having no police, I thought the only course to pursue was to advise the people of Kinnigo to make no aggression, but that if attacked they might defend themselves. In the event of an attack, the only assistance to which I could resort was that mentioned in my evidence.

4. My going forth in the direction of Kinnigo at this time, was with a view of obtaining more accurate information of the state of affairs in that quarter. The individuals alluded to were proceeding thither. The intelligence communicated by Mr. Cardwell, to the effect that no attack had taken place, although such was apprehended, caused all to return.

5. About two o'clock in the morning of Saturday, my servant apprising me that the church bell was ringing (by whose authority I could not ascertain), and that it denoted that the people of Kinnigo were actually attacked, I set out for that place; there were 20 or 30 persons also proceeding thither, but not in a concentrated body; some a good way before me, but none under my command, or collected by me in any way. Such was the excitement that I could not have kept them back; some indeed I knew, others I knew not, and my presence became the more indispensable to prevent them from urging on the tenantry of Kinnigo, who might be disposed, and were disposed, to listen to my advice; besides, I thought I might have some little weight with themselves, and pressed upon them, that if they broke the peace I should be responsible.

6. I remained at Kinnigo till five o'clock on Saturday morning, and by my presence contributed, to say the least, to prevent any collision between the parties. Upon those who remained at Kinnigo I urged in the strongest manner that they should make no aggression, but act entirely on the defensive, and that by strictly adhering to this advice they might count on the protection of the law.

7. About one o'clock on Saturday the 17th January, it was represented to me that some houses in the neighbourhood of Armagh were seen burning. A man named Cartmill was spoken of as knowing something about this; I sent for him immediately, and took his deposition on the subject, and forthwith forwarded it to Mr. Henry, chief constable of police in Armagh, and also sent an express to Sir Thomas Molyneux, whose yeomanry I thought might assist or be serviceable, conceiving there might not be sufficient force in Armagh.

8. My leaving home at this time was with the intention of proceeding to Charlemont, for the purpose of applying for a military force. On my way I learned that a detachment had proceeded thence towards the disturbed district; in consequence of which I directed my course thither. When at the place, I had the interview, stated in my evidence, with Mr. Olpherts and Sir F. Stovin, to whom I proposed remaining, if required; as this was thought no longer necessary, I sent word to the people of Kinnigo by Irwin that the military and police being now on the ground they might feel entirely at ease, give up their watching, and should also send off any strangers who might be with them, or afterwards come to their aid.

9. On Sunday morning, 18th January, I went (as previously arranged with Sir F. Stovin) to Kinnigo, to see how matters were going forward. Seeing a few persons still on the watch, I told them it was needless to continue this, as the military were and would be on guard. In the course of the day it was told me that strangers were seen passing through the village of Loughgall during the time of church service, marking or pointing out Protestant houses, supposed to be for the purpose of attack; it was also sworn before me, towards evening, that a person named Donelly had been going from chapel to chapel exciting the Roman Catholics, and saying he had or would have a force that would sweep the country from one end to another. Hereupon I swore in nine special constables, and placed them in the school-house of Loughgall to keep guard; I also sent out patrols.

10. The arrival of Mr. Obree, with an armed force, was wholly unadvised and unexpected by me; my accompanying these persons was not to lead them to, but rather to keep them from, attack; for I was assured my presence would tend to this. The fervour and irritated feeling that prevailed in the minds of the Protestants, which I hoped to allay, recommended this course of proceeding.

11. On the party returning to Loughgall, I directed that they should have a glass of spirits and water each, fearful that if left to themselves they might be guilty of excess, and so their quiet return home be hazarded. Those other armed parties which came into Loughgall were not sent for by me, and, as stated in my evidence, were ordered to return immediately home.

With Cardwell's getting gunpowder, I beg to observe, I had nothing whatever to do; but aware that he dealt in the article, and recently had procured some, I charged him to be very cautious not to sell to any but persons of good character. Of M'Mullen I knew and know nothing, nor have I any idea what 150 men were with him. It may be right to state, that Mr. Obree's party, alluded to in No. 10, never went within a mile of Kinnigo; it may therefore be assumed, my advice and remonstrance were not altogether uninfluential upon them. Further, so far from joining the illegal assembly, who professed to manage their own affairs, I was not even at or near Kinnigo on the day when Mr. M'Mullen appeared there, until some hours after his colloquy with Sir F. Stovin, when I myself was in company with the latter and Mr. Olpherts, as mentioned in No. 8.

As to my accompanying any armed men, your Lordship will perceive I could not stop them. I was led to consider my presence might serve to check their anxiety for engagement, and certainly it seems more likely I should be of use by being present where they were than by being absent. I never identified myself with them, or any of them; never led them to suppose I was their leader,—gave them no encouragement whatever. But I certainly do think that if a large unchecked armed party had arrived among the Kinnigo people, in the exasperated state of feeling they both were, an attack upon the opposite party must have been the result. I had with the tenantry a distinct and separate influence, besides that which I might possess as a magistrate, from having for a long series of time had the management of the property, and thus enjoyed the opportunity not only of becoming acquainted with them, but conciliating their regard. And now, my Lord, having brought to a close the statement of facts, so far at least as to embrace the heads of your Lordship's letter, I will merely observe, that if my anxiety to trespass as little as possible on your time has led me to be less diffuse or circumstantial than is necessary to show that I did exert myself as a magistrate lawfully, prudently and successfully, in the arduous situation I was placed in, I shall be perfectly ready to give any further explanation that may be desired on any of the topics embraced, more particularly if any doubt be entertained of the fact, that on the night of the 16th a large body of men, supposed to be 400, were assembled on the mail-coach road opposite to Kinnigo, and that a person, acting as a leader, was heard to say, "Come on, boys; come, now for Kinnigo!" I am prepared to offer evidence to prove it.

I hope a further indulgence may be granted me in taking the liberty of again adverting to my public character. I have been honoured with nearly the exclusive management of several of the first estates in the county for nearly eighteen years, in the latter part of the lives of Robert Carn Cope, Esq., Kennick Cope, Esq., Nicholas A. Cope, Esq., and William Parnell, of the county of Wicklow, Esq., and up to the present period continued in the situation. Three of these estates, the property of A. Cope, Esq., and John Parnell, Esq., amounting to 12,000 l. per annum, were for a considerable portion of this period in your Lordship's Honourable Court of Chancery. I was considered by the guardians and friends of these minors worthy of the trust confided to me by their fathers. I have been continued by the present John Parnell, Esq., now on a tour in America. Arthur Cope, Esq., of London, has lately obtained his majority, and his account is now in preparation: the executors and guardians (named by his father), the Marquess of Ormond and Sir Tho. Staples, have testified their approbation of my character and conduct. Mrs. Cope, the widow of the late Nicholas A. Cope, Esq., continues to honour me with the confidence I enjoyed under her late husband in the management of her estate in this county, amounting to nearly 3,000 l. per annum.

The tenantry on these several estates are not to be surpassed by any in this county for industry, respectability and peacefulness of character. These few observations, my Lord, I feel I owe to myself, and I trust, when all my statement is considered, your Lordship will no longer think a stigma should be allowed to rest on a character which, until now, has been considered irreproachable.

I have, &c.

Dear Sir,

I HAVE read your letter with attention, and in my opinion you were quite right in sending a statement of all the particulars to the Lord Chancellor. I have not had any letter from his Lordship on the subject; but I suppose you will soon receive his reply. I am very sorry that you should be put to all this trouble, and I hope sincerely the matter may end satisfactorily. I shall take care of the statement you have been so good as to send me, that I may have it to refer to in the event of my being written to on the subject. As I have not a copy of the proceedings at the late Armagh investigation by me, it is impossible for me to enter now further into particulars. I have not seen Mr. Cope since I came to town. I hope I may soon have that pleasure. Miss Cope is in town for a few days, and I will call on her to-day. I hope you and all your family are quite well. Excuse the hurry I am obliged to write in.

Sir,

WE, the undersigned inhabitants of Loughgall and its vicinity, sensible of the necessity that exists for a resident magistrate in that populous neighbourhood, request your interference with the view of having the suspension removed, by which Mr. Hardy is at present incapacitated from exercising his magisterial functions. We have been long acquainted with that gentleman, possessed ample opportunities of observing the manner in which he discharged the duties during the period of seventeen years, and we have no hesitation in expressing our conviction that his conduct throughout has been marked by integrity, impartiality and discretion. We do therefore earnestly request that you will make such a representation in the proper quarter as may relieve the inconvenience at present experienced from the want of a resident magistrate in the town of Loughgall.

COPY of LETTER from Richard B. M'Causland, Secretary to the Lord Chancellor, to Sir James M. Stronge, Bart., dated Secretary's Office, Court of Chancery, 12 June 1835.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Lord Chancellor to return the papers which you had submitted to his Lordship on the 5th instant, relative to the case of Mr. Hardy, a magistrate of the county of Armagh, and to say, that after a careful perusal of Sir E. Sugden's letter, and of Mr. Hardy's reply thereto, his Lordship does not find any reason to be dissatisfied with the decision of his predecessor in that gentleman's case. I am further to call your attention to the facts, that Sir E. Sugden's letter appears to have been written on the 20th of March; that he remained in office till the 30th of April, and continued here until some time after, in the month of May; that during all that time no steps beyond Mr. Hardy's letter of the 27th appear to have been taken in the matter; that his Lordship has had no intimation of the effect which that letter may have produced upon Sir E. Sugden's opinion on the subject, or whether it may have been changed or not; that he has not seen any of the papers except those which you have furnished, and can take no further steps in the matter, unless it shall be brought before him upon some further statement, accompanied by such papers as Mr. Hardy may think proper to submit, to which his Lordship will be quite ready to give his attentive consideration.

Sir,

I BEG leave to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2d instant.

When I suspended Mr. Hardy, I took no further step, because I thought it probable that there would be a parliamentary inquiry into the entire transaction, which would involve the consideration of Mr. Hardy's conduct.

That expectation seems now to be at an end, and I think it right to state, that if I had the power, I would remove the suspension, on the ground that a sufficient punishment (if I may use the expression not offensively) has been suffered for the offence. I do not object to this statement being submitted to the Lord Chancellor, who will of course exercise his own judicial discretion on the subject.

Sugden, I have the honour to enclose herewith a letter from that gentleman, addressed to Lieutenant-Colonel Verner, Member for the county of Armagh; and I have further to express my hope that your Lordship will also be of opinion that a sufficient punishment has already been inflicted upon Mr. Hardy, and that you will be pleased to remove the suspension under which he at present suffers.

Sugden of Mr. Hardy, from acting as a magistrate of the county of Armagh, and enclosing a letter from Sir E. Sir,

HAVING been from home at the time of the receipt of your letter of the 18th ultimo, I have been unable to give you an earlier reply, as I was not in possession of the documents required by the Lord Chancellor: enclosed I have the honour to transmit either the originals or copies of all the papers which I believe exist on the subject of Mr. Hardy's case, and I have further to make the following statement for his Lordship's satisfaction:—

Vide Sir E. Sugden's Letter, March 20. Mr. Norton's Letter, March 25.

It appears that in consequence of certain evidence given by Mr. Hardy, upon an investigation, held at the Court-house of Armagh in January last, Sir E. Sugden felt it his duty to demand explanations from that gentleman, and to suspend him from acting as a magistrate for the present.

Considerable

Considerable inconvenience having been experienced at Loughgall and its neighbourhood, in consequence of the suspension of Mr. Hardy, there being no other resident magistrate there, I thought it my duty to apply to the Lord Chancellor to remove the suspension, at the same time furnishing his Lordship with all the papers. In reply to which I received a notification from Mr. M'Causland, stating, that after a careful perusal of Sir E. Sugden's letter and of Mr. Hardy's reply, his Lordship does not find any reason to be dissatisfied with the decision of his predecessor; and further, that Sir E. Sugden's letter appears to have been written on the 20th of March, and that he remained in office till the 30th of April, and continued here till some time after in May; that during all that time no steps, beyond Mr. Hardy's letter of the 27th, appear to have been taken in the matter; that his Lordship has not had any intimation of the effect which that letter may have produced upon Sir E. Sugden's mind, &c. For the purpose of satisfying the Lord Chancellor on this head, I wrote to Lord Gosford, who was then in London, enclosing him a copy of Mr. M'Causland's letter, for the purpose of having it transmitted to Sir E. Sugden, that his views upon it might be obtained, and I had the honour some time since to forward to the Lord Chancellor that gentleman's reply (forwarded to me through Colonel Verner, M. P.), in which he states, that his reason for taking no further steps was, that he thought it probable that there would be a parliamentary inquiry into the entire transaction, which would involve the consideration of Mr. Hardy's conduct; that expectation seems now to be at an end, and he thinks it right to state, that if he had the power he would remove the suspension.

Sir,

I HAVE the honour to inform you, that on last night, 21st instant, about the hour of eight o'clock, I was called upon by Mr. Olpherts, J. P., to attend him with a patrol, to ascertain the cause of bonfires being erected and the firing of shots (amounting in number to 10 or upwards) in the neighbourhood of Kinnigo and Loughgall. Having made inquiry at different houses near Kinnigo, they ascertained that the cause of this disturbance at that hour of the night, and which created much alarm among the Roman Catholics of the neighbourhood, was in consequence of the re-appointment of Mr. Hardy, of Loughgall, to the commission of the peace, and that this mode of expressing their feelings of approbation was adopted by some of the Orangemen in the neighbourhood.

I beg leave further to state that Mr. Olpherts having ascertained the cause at Kinnigo, returned home, and that I proceeded with my party to Loughgall, and having patroled that neighbourhood, returned to Charlemont at an early hour this morning, after a march of 15 miles; no outrage or breach of the peace occurred.

It is certain that of the above number eight are denuded and one dead, so that the real number qualified may be stated at 106.

It may also be remarked that there may be some additions and other changes upon the roll before 1st November next. The new rolls must be completed by 20th October.

Nairn, 28 March 1836. Robert Malcolm, Sheriff Clerk Dep.

ORKNEY.

The sheriff clerk of Orkney returns the number of freeholders in Orkney qualified at the registration of August 1835, to vote at any election for a Knight of the Shire to serve in Parliament for the county of Orkney and Zetland, to amount to 327.

This is, perhaps, all that is required of him in the return demanded, but should it be understood to extend to the actual persons at this moment qualified to vote, he mentions as follows: That of the above 327, there are two proprietors enrolled both in Zetland and Orkney. That there is one tenant twice enrolled. That two proprietors have died since last registration. The reporter cannot permit himself to state the proprietors and tenants divested of their qualifications from his own private knowledge, however certain he may be; but he believes two proprietors and seven tenants to be divested.

Follows an analysis of the 327 freeholders of Orkney:

Freeholders from the old roll - -	40
Proprietors under Reform Act - -	187
Life-renters - ditto - - - -	22
Tenant on 19 years' lease, and paying 50 l. rent and upwards - - -	55
Tenants on lease of 57 years and above	6
Ditto life-rent - - - - -	17
	327

The sheriff clerk of Orkney is not sheriff clerk of Zetland, but he has seen the number of Zetland freeholders stated at 130 on the late registration, and he has forwarded the requisition through the post-office, addressed to the sheriff clerk of Zetland at Lerwick. He may here mention, that at a late contested election particularly, enquiries have been made of him for information as to the Zetland roll of electors, which he had no means of supplying; but which defect, an order on the sheriff clerks of Orkney and Zetland to exchange certified copies of the respective rolls of freeholders would remedy; the expense of transmission at least to be allowed them in their registration account payable in Exchequer.

BRISTOL.

IT appears from the sheriff's register of electors for the current year, that the number of persons qualified to vote for Members is 10,347, and from the burgess lists, that the number of persons qualified to vote for Councillors is 4,193; but I have found it to be impracticable to distinguish or identify which of such persons are qualified to vote in both capacities. In the sheriff's register the same name is inserted two or three times, and in some instances five times over; in the latter case, as being a householder and freeholder in more than one parish in the borough, and also as being a freeman; the same name is also in the burgess lists twice over in very many instances.

RICHMOND.

The boundaries of the borough of Richmond were, by the Act for amending the representation of England and Wales, extended so far as to comprehend the adjoining parish of Eastby, which contains the townships of Eastby, Brumpton-upon-Swale, Skeeby and Aske. These boundaries were proposed by the Bill introduced into Parliament by His Majesty's Ministers, "to provide for the regulation of Municipal Corporations in England and Wales," to constitute the municipal boundaries also; but during the passage of this Bill through the House of Lords, we were restricted to the ancient boundaries of the borough; consequently the parish of Eastby now forms no part of the municipal boundaries of Richmond (greatly to the mortification of the inhabitants of the parish of Eastby, and of the liberal interest in Richmond, and greatly to the injury of their cause). This will in some degree account for the number of municipal electors being so much less than the number of the electors of the Members of Parliament. Other reasons are, requiring as a qualification the elector to be an inhabitant householder; three years' occupation previous to the registration; and the payment of all rates to the relief of the poor during the time; by which many of the best inhabitants are not only deprived of their franchise of burgess, but are also rendered ineligible to hold offices which they are otherwise well entitled and qualified to fill.

A short time, a year or two, may perhaps remove the ineligibility, so far as the present parties are affected, but they will doubtless be succeeded by others under like circumstances, unless the law should in this respect be altered, and the Parliamentary and Municipal Acts, as regards the term of possession or occupation, be assimilated, as well as the nature of the property forming the qualification.

A Return of the Total Number of Persons qualified to Vote for Members to serve in Parliament, made from the last Registration; distinguishing the Number of Persons qualified to Vote either for Members of Parliament, or for Town Councillors under the Municipal Reform Act.

As regards the list of persons entitled to vote for Members of Parliament, it perhaps may be stated as divided into two lists, although it is in point of fact copied only as one; the first of freemen, whose rights of voting were reserved under the Reform Act, and secondly, of those entitled under that Act.

The number of persons appearing upon the original register, made out in October last, as being qualified to vote for a Member for the borough is 354; but I would suggest that very many of such names appear in more than one list, on account of their having more than one qualification, and that the number of the same persons who were also qualified to vote for Town Councillors in said borough was 151.

I cannot state for what term or the amount of each rentcharge, nor can I state to whom they were granted; there are some Registered in 1832 from the old affidavits. I cannot tell the name of the person granting those, as the form of affidavits given by the 10th Geo. 4, did not require the grantee's name, and the affidavits are the only documents before me.

In laying the foregoing Return before the Honourable the House of Commons, I humbly beg leave to state that I have no other documents in my office to enable me to do so, save the affidavits of registry in such of these as were registered prior to the passing of the Reform Bill, and on the production of such affidavit the parties were again registered. The grantor of the rentcharge is not set forth, and I am therefore unable to state the names of such grantors, and can therefore only state the names of the grantors in those new registries which took place since the passing of the Reform Bill. I am also unable to state the term for which such rentcharges were granted, such not being set out in the affidavit of registry, nor the amount of such rentcharge, further than the sum stated in such affidavit.
